Software Based

The Future of Nursing Training is Here In the ever-evolving healthcare landscape, the demand for innovative and effective training solutions is paramount.

We are delighted to present a software-based training provider who stands at the forefront of this transformation, offering a subscription-based 3D training simulation platform specifically designed for nursing students.

Having already secured commercial customers, the company is ready for dramatic growth, with projected sales of over $4m in 2026.

Approximately 60,000 students are enrolled in nursing programs across universities and vocational education institutions annually.

University nursing programs see around 30,000 new enrolments each year, while vocational education and training (VET) programs, including TAFEs and private colleges, enrol a similar number.

This state-of-the-art software delivers practical, face-to-face training experiences that are essential for developing competent and confident nursing professionals.

This cutting-edge 3D simulations offer an immersive learning experience that fosters deeper understanding and retention of knowledge. Developed with industry experts, the comprehensive curriculum covers essential nursing skills, providing real-time feedback and assessment to track progress and performance.

Invest in the Future of Healthcare:

Investing in our 3D training simulation software means being part of the future of nursing education. This investment opportunity addresses current demands and adapts to future trends, ensuring high-quality training for nursing professionals, ideal for RTO's, nursing agencies and education providers.

Registrations of Interest are invited, closing 30th August 2024.
