Label Printing Business for Sale

This well-established business specialises in printing and manufacturing labels and tags. It is a niche business that focuses on servicing a particular industry. There is very little competition within this particular industry niche.

Although the business does mainly focus on its customer niche, it has the equipment and capabilities to produce a huge variety of general label products. These can be cut to a wide range of sizes and on many different materials. This means that there is plenty of scope for you to target new customers across a huge variety of industries.

Labels and tags are used extensively in a variety of different applications, including boutique and general food packaging, water bottles, wine bottles, fruit stickers, equipment labels and tags, chemical labels, industrial product labels, promotional stickers, etc. As a result, the ability to grow this business is limited only by your imagination.

This business uses multi colour flexographic printing technology. This enables the production of printed and die cut labels, on a roll, at high speed. There is also a wide selection of finishing and ancillary equipment included. The business currently operates on a single shift and has plenty of spare production capacity. Therefore, significant expansion of the business is possible without the need to invest in more equipment.

This business could make a great acquisition for another printing business that is looking to grow through acquisition. It could also be well suited for an individual that is looking for a business that provides significant potential for growth.

This business is being offered for sale at $300,000. Most of the price is backed with equipment and stock value.

Label printing businesses rarely come onto the market and this business is likely to sell quickly. Enquire now to avoid missing out.
